

Society of Chartered Surveyors Ireland (SCSI)
Continuing Professional Development (CPD) Policy

1. Introduction

One of the earliest definitions of CPD and most commonly used by professional bodies is:

“The systematic maintenance, improvement and broadening of knowledge and skills, and the development of personal qualities necessary for the execution of professional and technical duties throughout the individual’s working life”

CPD is not directed towards a single goal which is achieved: end of story. It is a continual striving for, achieving and renewing of learning and development goals.

As a condition of membership, members of the Society of Chartered Surveyors Ireland are committed to continually updating their skills and knowledge to remain professionally competent.

2. CPD as a benefit to members and others

CPD helps members demonstrate a fundamental commitment to maintaining and developing professional standards to their clients, employers, the profession, their professional body, the general public, and in addition, to the members themselves.

CPD supports a professional’s career prospects and enhances job satisfaction.

As well as professional development, CPD supports personal development, encouraging self-confidence, awareness of ethical pitfalls and openness to new ways of doing things.

3. SCSI Member CPD Rules of Conduct

Members of the Society of Chartered Surveyors Ireland are obliged always to comply with the Society’s Rules of Conduct on CPD.

Rule 2.5 states:

“Members shall plan, undertake, record and evaluate appropriate continuing professional development in accordance with the CPD Policy and, on request, provide the Society with evidence that they have done so in accordance with the Society’s CPD Policy and in accordance with Part 5 of these Rules”.

4. New CPD Planning & Recording system (with effect from 1st January 2018)

Following a decision made by the SCSI Council in 2017, to maintain and develop their professional knowledge, skills and expertise, all SCSI members must

Undertake and record online the following:

- a minimum of 20 hours of CPD activity each calendar year
- a minimum of 50% of CPD (10 hours) per year must be formal, the remaining 50%

(10 hours) can comprise either formal or informal relevant professional learning

- a minimum of 1 hour of formal CPD per year must relate directly to the professional designation held by the member to demonstrate compliance with Regulatory/Statutory CPD requirements associated with the holding of that designation
- In addition to the above acceptable 20-hour CPD requirements, Panel members that are included and act on the Society's Dispute Resolution Panels are required to undertake and record an additional 10 hours per calendar year, specifically related to the field of dispute resolution. This can include the following:
 - acting as a party representative in third party proceedings
 - acting as an arbitrator or other dispute resolver
 - attending or presenting at relevant events

All members are also required to undertake learning on the topic of Professional and Ethical Standards once every 3 years.

5. The CPD Calendar Year

The CPD Calendar year runs from 1st January to 31st December each year. Surplus CPD hours cannot be carried over into the next year.

6. Recording CPD on MyCPD

From 1st January 2017, it is a mandatory requirement for all members to use the SCSi MyCPD online recording tool to record their CPD activities.

MyCPD allows members to:

- Upload your records of CPD activities and hours
- Store all your certificates and other evidence of CPD activities
- View and reflect on your CPD data recorded for each year
- Access CPD Calendar & directly book into SCSi events
- Print downloaded reports which help to present your CPD record, whether for a job interview, performance review, audit or applying for a professional title

In exceptional circumstances, members who are unable to use MyCPD may keep a hard copy of their CPD activity. Such members must notify the SCSi's Director of Regulation by the end of March of a calendar year of their intention to keep a hard copy and provide a valid reason, in writing, for not using the online system. If considered a valid reason, the hard copy must be submitted by the member before the end of the CPD calendar year.

7. What counts as CPD (and what does not)?

A diverse range of activities qualify as CPD. Members plan their own learning and development and this can come in many forms.

Formal CPD can be any form of structured learning that has clear learning objectives and outcomes, such as a professional course or structured online training. It could also be learning that includes an assessment measure. Members could be asked to provide supporting evidence of any formal learning entered on their MyCPD record.

Informal CPD is any self-managed learning that is relevant or related to a member's professional role. This could include activities such as private study, on-the-job training, attendance at informal seminars or events where the focus is on knowledge sharing. Members could be asked to provide supporting evidence of any informal learning entered onto the CPD online facility.

For recording purposes SCSi categorises CPD into:

- 3rd Level Course/Further Education
- Briefing/Conference/Workshop/Seminar
- Exam Setting/Moderation
- Mentoring
- On-the-job Training by Internal Expert
- Online/Distance Learning
- Other
- SCSi Voluntary Activities
- Self-directed Reading/Research
- Teaching/Training Delivered to Others
- Technical Authorship
- Training Course
- Work-based Activity

What doesn't count as CPD?

Any activity that does not have a clear learning purpose, or does not relate to a member's role and/or specialism cannot be considered as appropriate CPD. For example, activities such as networking, social events, team meetings or informal planning events and involvements in boards, committees or clubs that have little or no relevance to a member's professional role, cannot count towards their CPD requirements.

8. SCSi - Supporting members with CPD

- Planning CPD activities allows you to set and prioritise learning goals and decide what actions you will undertake to achieve them. This will help you to target your learning effectively.
- Recording CPD activities allows you to keep a record of your CPD activities to refer to at a later date as well as demonstrating adherence to the CPD policy. It also allows you to look at the balance of your CPD activities over a period.

- Reflecting on your CPD activities allows you to ask yourself questions such as: “What did/will I learn? And “How did/I apply the learning?” It provides the opportunity to consider what further CPD activities might be undertaken to reach your professional goals.
